New CfD dashboards

LCCC is providing new insights into its data through its just launched CfD dashboards on its website. You can now have accessible views onto the CfD portfolio, forecasts of energy production and information on actual generation and cash flows. The portfolio view brings the existing CfD Register to life and shows how the portfolio will grow in the years ahead, while the forecasts give projections of CfD projects' future generation. Actuals, meanwhile, show how active CfD projects have already contributed to Great Britain's electricity mix. Visit the dashboards here.

Please give LCCC your ideas and comments on the dashboards by using the Feedback buttons on the site.
